The book begins with a section familiarizing the reader with basic scientific terminology related to the subjects discussed in the two-volume series, beginning with discussions of the concepts of resonance, oscillation, vibration & frequency, & moves rapidly into discussions about human auric band structures and their frequencies, as well as those involved in telepathic interaction. Matrix III Volume One begins the discussion on electromagnetics with a review of the natural electromagnetic fields of the planet, the holographic aspects of the universe & consciousness, the morphological fields set forth by Dr. Rupert Sheldrake, & continues on with hard-to-find data on the human brain & neurophysiology, as well as brain structures and their relationship to levels of consciousness and behavior. The book discusses four ascending levels of social manipulation.
