It catapults the reader directly into a bizarre, end of the world scenario from the very start. The world is surprised by an event so devastating that the very survival of the human race and the earth itself are threatened. The few left include a well connected scientist, and they desperately try to piece together what happened to gauge the extent of the global damage. But all communication is gone, leaving them guessing. They face constant, extreme dangers from the aftermath. They must plan very carefully their existence with extremely limited resources. They risk dying of starvation, being eaten alive by beasts, and a face whole host of other deadly threats in a changed world where civilization became a mere memory. They are still human though, and humans have inherent needs that are impossible to contain even when the world is ending. Their driving hope is that whatever's left of the international community will eventually come to their rescue. But from their isolated perspective, they don't know if anyone else has survived the event at all on planet earth, considering the enormity of the catastrophe they just witnessed. Can they hold out long enough to be rescued- perhaps for months or even years- if there is anyone left at all to rescue them? Find out in Mega Cataclysm: The Last Survivors Chronicles.
